Endangered Species in the U.A.E

Not since the demise of the dinosaurs over 65 million years ago has the planet experienced such a rapid and devastating loss of life. Every single day, between 150 and 200 species of plants, insects, birds and mammals become extinct. They will never be seen again. Despite this alarming statistic from the United Nations Environment Programmed, teams of dedicated people around the world are fighting back. And the UAE is no exception. As the residents of U.A.E we all have a responsibility to protect our nation's wildlife, fish and plants on the blink of extinction.
