The Month of Technology

“Technology will not replace great teachers, but technology in the hands of great teachers can be transformational.”

At AJ technology is not an event; it’s an integral part of everyday learning. Keeping in mind how education turned impossible without technology during the past few months, we have created more opportunities for our students to be equipped with the most powerful tool which is ‘technology’.

The most technologically efficient machine that man has ever invented is the book.

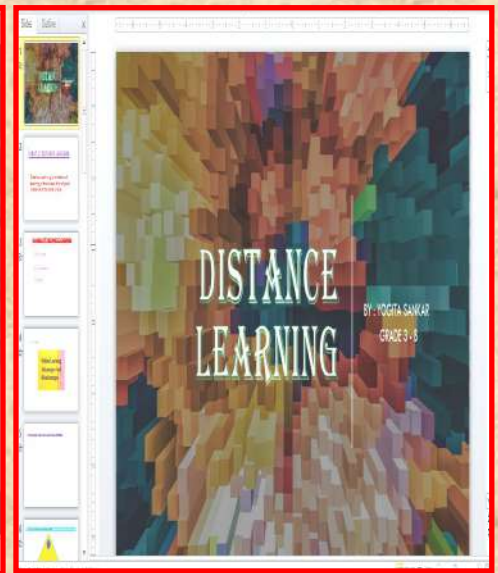

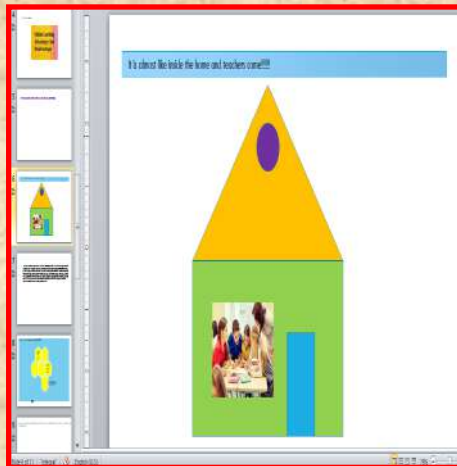

- NORTHROP FRYE

The Department of Information and Communication Technology has planned in detail to facilitate maximum participation of students by providing them a platform to experiment what they have learned and to encourage their inquisitive minds to explore the world of technology.

The Family Inclusion Literacy Lab Activities

At Al Ain Juniors, we perceive that academics and co-curricular activities go hand in hand. Looking for new ways to keep the students occupied while building on the skills they've been learning in the classroom, a variety of fun filled literacy activities involving both parents and students were organized. These activities were planned meticulously to boost the students' academic, motor, communication, and social-emotional skills.

A wide variety of activities were included such as Supercharge Your Story time, Play your puppets, Show and Tell, Put on a play, Start a language-rich restaurant at home, Make a museum, Reader's Theatre, etc. Students were free to choose an activity of their choice.

A graphic illustration for a summer holiday message. The background is a photograph of a modern building with large glass windows and a blue sky. Overlaid on this are several colorful, cartoon-style cutouts of beach items: two blue lounge chairs with yellow frames, a slice of watermelon, a red starfish, a red and white beach umbrella, a yellow and red beach hat, a pair of blue flip-flops, a red seashell, a pair of blue sunglasses, and another slice of watermelon. The central text is in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters.

AND AMAZING
SUMMER HOLIDAY!
