Graduation Day

by Vatsa (XI B)

Graduation day - shaking, nervous, and ready to venture out of the high school world. This is the beginning and the end of a journey to what our lives will ultimately come to.

Al Ain Juniors School was bustling with high voltage energy and emotions as the school felicitated the academic achievers of its 13th batch of 2016-2017 with pomp and gaiety, the graduation day was celebrated on 16th of February, 2017. The graduation Ceremony was a truly momentous occasion on an unprecedented scale

To cater to the event the ceremony was held, for the first time, in the school's auditorium which had been recently renovated. The auditorium had been lavishly redecorated. The ceremony played host to guests from a vast spectrum of cultures and family backgrounds, resulting in a vibrant celebratory atmosphere.

Our graduates and their guests were notably impressed by the splendour of our ceremonial traditions and the grandeur of the auditorium in which the ceremonies took place.

Besides the number of dignitaries including Mrs. Tanveer Arshad, Managing Director of AJS, Mr. Arshad Sharif, Chairman of AJS, Ms. Ayisha Siddiqua, Principal of AJS, and Mr. Mohd. Gaffar, Academic head of AJS, the event was presided over by our chief guest Mr. Nayan Vasa Jayshukhlal, HOD and specialist, General surgery, NMCAIain.

The convocation had started with the Academic procession which was headed by the academic head followed by the teachers and by the graduates. This was followed by invoking the blessings of the Almighty with the prayer. The Indian national anthem and the UAE national anthem had followed next. Next, the attendees were introduced to all the co-anchors for the ceremony.

To formally invite all the guests and give them a red carpet welcome, Mr. Mohd. Gaffar and Ms. Ayisha Siddiqua were requested to address the gathering.

The teachers, who had, in all these years, taken our hands, opened our minds, and touched our hearts to ignite the fire in us and launch us into the new horizon, were invited upon the stage to be paid a special regard.

It was an immense pleasure that Mrs. Tanveer Arshad and Mr. Arshad Sharif had been invited to the stage to address the gathering and share some inspirational messages to the outgoing batch.

This was followed by our chief guest Mr. Nayan Vasa Jayshukhlal being invited upon the stage to speak a few motivating words. In his convocation speech he also stated that education should be seen as a stepping stone to character building and societal development. He stressed on higher education as the key to making available a large pool of skilled manpower for our nation and also to shape a student's personality. He also expressed that the objectives of reform and change in our higher education system must be expansion, excellence and inclusion of a transparent framework. He also paid special regard to the exclusion of any distractions that come across, especially, in a student's journey. The time now is to modernize our education system to build on the existing strengths in light of new understanding of the research-innovation-growth linkage.

A few of the co-anchors were then called upon to the stage to speak a few inspirational words to the graduates. In this process, 5 of the graduates were also called upon to speak on topics stretching from their journey in AJS to how education is related to development in oneself.

Next up was the most awaited moment, conferment of the degrees. The moment, the fruit of hard-work and discipline would be finally reaped.

The parents sat, fingers twiddling and biting their lips, waiting for their own flesh and blood to walk up and grab their diplomas. The graduates stood on the stage hands shaking, tapping their feet and anxiously waiting for each name to be called up.

The next moments flashed by very quickly as they all acquired their turns to stand on stage, smiling, and grab their diplomas while their entire journey, in and out of AJS in the past 17 years, was displayed in the background confined in a power point presentation. After grabbing their diplomas, each of them was led down the stage for a photograph with their families, who earnestly waited for their kin.

The conferment of the degrees was preceded by the tradition of lighting of the candle. This tradition symbolized 'the light of knowledge. Having completed their course of studies they had received their light, and now had the responsibility of carrying this to whichever world they lived in. For this purpose, Mrs. Tanveer Arshad was requested to light the candle of each student.

While this tradition was in action, the AJ choir had sung their melodious rendition. The song, 'The Climb' signified the difficulties and challenges thrown to us, how we face the outside world and how we can ultimately reach the final goal if we stay focused. The next song 'You raise me up' went out to our Alma mater, Al Ain Junior School, for being the source of knowledge and guide for a number of years.

The conferment of degrees, candle lightening ceremony, and the photo session had taken place for the girls and boys separately. Following these grand traditions, the students who had out-shone in some areas and had been adjusted as the winners were awarded with certificates and momentums.

The convocation function was dissolved with the vote of thanks. The evening ended in the hope that these academically bright, sprightly youngsters will make their mark in the world.

MARTYR'S DAY

Liya Aji, X1-A

Martyrdom is the ultimate expression of devotion and love.

Martyr's day is the time of remembrance for those who have sacrificed their lives in the service of their country. His Highness the President Sheikh Khalifa bin Zayed Al Nahyan has issued a decision that the 30th day of November every year shall be observed as Martyrs Day, as a tribute to the UAE's fallen heroes.

Although Martyr's Day will commemorate the fallen in civil and humanitarian services, its emphasis is clearly on military "martyrs". The reason for choosing November 30th for the holiday is that the first UAE soldier to die in defense of his country occurred on this date. It was during the Battle of Greater Tunb, when Iran attempted to seize offshore Emirati islands just prior to the nation's formal unification on December 1st and 2nd. The first martyr was then killed by Iranians after he refused to lower his Emirate's flag and submit to the invaders.

Alain Juniors School also observed martyrs day and commemorated their ultimate sacrifice to defend our people and preserve our homeland and our achievements.

The aim is to make students realize that through observing martyrs day we publicly declare loyalty to our national identity and true belonging to our state. One minute silence was observed to pay tribute to our heroes and immortalize their sacrifices.

Children's Day Celebration

- Rehab 9C

Al Ain Juniors School, CBSE division celebrated children's day on 14th November 2016 to commemorate the birthday of the first Prime Minister of India – Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. It was a non-uniform day and the students came in colorful dresses with full enthusiasm and excitement for the eventful day.

The day started with full zest and spirit with a special assembly organized by the lovely staff members of Al Ain Juniors for their lovable students. The programme began with a fun filled quiz on children's day to make the students understand the significance of this day. It was followed by a surprise dance performance by the talented female teachers of Al Ain Juniors School. A short comedy skit was also showcased by the male teachers of our school which made it a memorable day for all the staff and students. The programme ended with a short speech by our vice principal. Various activities were also organized to engage the students in the class. Cake decoration and sandwich making competitions were held among the high school students. The students displayed their creative cookery skills and the deserving students won the competition.

It was indeed a memorable day in the history of Al Ain Juniors School. Such events are a good way of getting the children connected to their nation while being away from their homeland.
